

Faith-Based Peacebuilding: *Religion: a threat for women's rights
or a driving force for social change
and women's peace activism?*

Registration for the workshops

IFOR/WPP Program Manager Isabelle Geuskens presenting on IFOR/WPP's work on faithbased peacebuilding and gender

Cassandra Balchin, Lead Researcher for Resisting and Challenging Religious Fundamentalisms initiative from the Association for Women's Rights in Development (AWID), presenting on the AWID Initiative

Cordaid representatives Nursyahbani Katjasungkana and Frank van Lierde presenting on women religious leaders in Indonesia

Farida van Bommel (Multicultural Women Peacemakers Network) sharing her personal experience in interfaith peacebuilding in the Moluccas

*Plenary debate. From left to right:
Farida van Bommel (Multicultural Women Peacemakers Network), Cassandra Balchin (AWID), Nursyahbani Katjasungkana (Cordaid and national Coordinator of LBH APIK's Federation) and Hans Ulrich Gerber (the International Fellowship of Reconciliation)*

IFOR Vicepresident Davorka Lovrekovic on the need to broaden current interpretations of religious scriptures

Workshop "Peacebuilding: Religion and Spirituality as a Source of Inspiration" (organized by Platform Women and Sustainable Peace)

Speaker in the Workshop "Peacebuilding: Religion and Spirituality as a Source of Inspiration" on the inspiration she finds in Islam for her peace activism.

Workshop "Interfaith Peacebuilding: A Case Study from The Philippines: Mindanao Tri-People Peace" (organized by Multicultural Women Peacemakers Network)

Drinks and informal sharing at the end of the day

A participant sharing his vision at the end of his day